Boy's Story Causes Arrest of His Mother

uvenile Court Unearths Tale of Rare Cruelty

IOTHER CHARGED THAT THE BOY WAS INSANE

HE AND A MAN FRIEND NOW IN JAIL

s. Martha Armstrong and Sam Sprague Held On Serious Charge.

ter Willie Summerfield, 16, had arrested Wednesday night on a cy charge preferred by his moth- Mrs Martha Armstrong, and had a story in which the juvenile au- ities were much interested, Mrs. strong and Sam Sprague were ar- ed Thursday morning charged contributing to the delinquency oung Summerfield and the two now locked up in the county jail g a penalty of from $10 and 10 in jail to $1,000 and one year in work house.

mmerfield when arrested showed ences of having been beaten. He Sprague had punished him at the e on Ninth street Wednesday ing between 4 and 5 o'clock. The s condition started the investiga- by the juvenile authorities.

ednesday morning Mrs. Armstrong re out an affidavit against her son ie Summerfield charging that he insane. The sheriff was on the of Willie all day but did not find until evening. Willie, who works Markley, the liveryman, had gone Pleasant Valley, returning home at and evening for his meals.

Boy's Story.

ccording to the story told The Thursday morning in the juvenile rt room Willie went home between d 5 o'clock. He asked his mother re he could find a necktie.

or some reason ,the boy alleges, Clark, who has lived at the Arm- ng home for the last few months, rding to the boy's statement, flew a rage. He struck Willie, it is ged, blacking the boy's left eye, then struck him again on the t cheek and once on the fore- d. The boy says he fell to the r and that Clark began choking . After a while the boy says rk let him up and told him to sit n in a chair. Willie, instead, took coat and left the home.

Badly Bruised.

fter leaving the house he went to Markley livery barn with blood aming from his wounds. His left was badly discolored and swelled pletely shut Blood streamed m a cut in his forehead and his t cheek became swollen. It was the livery barn that Deputy Sher- McDonald found the boy and ar- ted him under the lunacy charge t had been preferred by the moth- earlier in the day.

fter reaching the jail the boy's dition made it necessary to call Cone, who dressed his wounds

In Juvenile Court.

Thursday morning the boy was tak- before Probate Judge Ashman to examined by physicians to deter- ne whether he was a lunatic Drs. r and Cone made the examination both refused to declare him in- e. It was then that young Sum rfields story was told. He said t he had seen many things happen his home. He said Sam Sprague been living at the home for the t few months. He said that his ther and Sprague wanted to "get of him" because he had seen too ch. He said that they are always ng something to me. His story ched the hearts of the hearers for boy has just turned sixteen

Mother Under Arrest.

Following the recital of the story l finding that the boy was not in e Judge Ashman declared him a nquency. Prosecutor Klein swore an affidavit for the arrest of h Sprague and Mrs Armstrong, rged with contributing to the de- uency of the child. They were ked up in the county jail.

BONFIRES TO ENCIRCLE CAMP AT CHAUTAUQUA

It was announced this afternoon by Pres. Geo. M. Gray of the Chautauqua that tonight immediately after the evening session of the Chautauqua, there would be a series of bonfires lighted on the grounds. This will be done just as the people are leaving the large auditorium and the fires will no doubt present a pretty spectacle. The bonfires will be arranged in a circle around the grounds. This is something that has never been done before at the Chautauqua, and it is hoped that a large number of people turn out and be present at this novel innovation.

THEY WEREN'T RIDING THE CUSHIONS

John Broder of Lafayette, Ind., and E. Van Fortune were arrested Thursday afternoon by Detective Doney for illegal train riding and were each fined $1 and costs. They were sent to jail awaiting the payment of the fine and costs.

MASKED MEN HOLD-UP CHICAGO STATION

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Three masked bandits held up the Fifty-second Avenue station of the Oak Park elevated railroad early today and beating the agent into unconsciousness, escaped with $130. The agent, William H. Scott, probably is fatally injured.

GOOD SEASON IS PROMISED

Al Norrington takes Charge of Sixth St. Theatre— Open Soon.

Al Norrington, the new manager of the Sixth St. theatre arrived in Coshocton Wednesday afternoon from Pittsburg and assumed charge of the house. Mr. Norrington says that Ed. L. Moore who last spring leased the local house, is in a position now with his strong list of houses which come under his supervision to furnish Coshocton with a good list of attractions during the coming season. The date of the opening of the house has not yet been announced but Mr. Norrington expects a communication from Mr. Moore within the next few days when the date wil lbe decided upon.

The house which has been closed all summer will undergo some repairs, redecoration and a complete renovating.

Mr. Norrington is an experienced theatre manager. For the last few years he has been general representative of the three big houses in Pittsburg. The Alvin, Grand and Nixon acting as advertising manager for all three houses.

He wants to get the local house opened as soon as possible.

Ed. L. Moore, the lessee, has a circuit of about 50 houses for all of which he makes bookings. Coshocton is one of the leaders. He controls the main theatres in Canton, Newark, New Philadelphia, Wheeling, W. Va., Parkersburg, W. Va., about nine in Indiana, one at Bellaire and others scattered all over the state of Ohio

No Evasion; Square Proof

The Daily Age last Saturday in a news item published an interview with E. T. McGuire, of the state department of accounting. It was a news item purely and simply and the interview was gleaned with no other idea. It's value in live interest was not established until it was turned in to the "copy" resk.

The interview went on to say that Mr. McGuire said that "he had thoroughly investigated the conditions prevailing here and was at a loss to know why some action had not been taken a long time ago. He said that as he understood it all that remains to be done is in the council's hands, that is, to make the necessary appropriation."

The closing paragraph of the item was as follows:

"They have let politics enter into the condition," said Mr. McGuire, "and while they are fighting, the citizens suffer. The matter should be taken up by the citizens and action taken forcing some relief."

This interview was Wednesday night republished by the Democratic organ. It had interested the mayor, and he had written to the department at Columbus and the inspector had been called on the carpet. He doubtless thought his job was in jeopardy for he sent Mayor Cassingham the following evasive letter, in which, be it noted, he DOES NOT DENY THE AGE INTERVIEW

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14, 1911.

Hon. Geo. W. Cassingham.

Mayor, City of Coshocton, Ohio.

Dear sir:—Your of the 12th inst., addressed to Hon. Jos. T. Tracy, State Bureau of Accounting and enclosing clipping from one of your local newspapers, containing an alleged interview with me, relative to the management of the water works of your city was referred to me, and in reply to same I wish to state as follows:

No information whatever relative to either the accounts or to the management of the water works, as shown by the examination just made, was given to the young gentleman who stated that he represented one of the daily papers, and nothing was said or even intimated by me during the few minutes conversation held with him, that would in the slightest degree justify the use of the words and phrases that appear in the account of this alleged interview.

If as stated in the article in question, "political strings are jerked in water works management" or "they have let politics enter into the condition" the examination made of the water works accounts does not disclose any evidence of such conditions.

Very respectfully yours,

E. F. McGuire State Examiner.

Here are the facts, exactly as they occurred, secured without purpose other than news. That they fitted and described the wretched political condition the mayor has introduced into the water works and other city departments, is his fault, not The Age's:

Coshocton County, ss.:
State of Ohio, Aug. 17, 1911.

Personally appeared before me a notary public in and for thte county of Coshocton, State of Ohio, Jesse Ayres, and being duly sworn according to law, deposes as follows:

That he is city editor of The Daily Age, and that on Saturday, Aug. 12, he learned that an inspector had been here examining the city water works books; that he sought him for a news item, and finding him introduced himself as a newspaper man and asked several questions; that the said inspector, who gave his name as E. T. McGuire, did state in substance that he had thoroughly investigated conditions here and was at a loss to know why some action had not been taken for as he understood, all that remained to be done was for council to make an appropriation; and that he further said in substance that doubtless politics had entered into conditions and while politicians wrangled the people suffered, and that it was up to the people to seek their own relief, or words if not exactly these, very similar and to the same effect. He made the remarks incidentally to the information given that he had examined the books and local conditions.

JESS AYRES.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of August, 1911.

WOULDN'T FURNISH PHYSICIAN WHEN CHILD WAS BORN

Grave Charges Made By Roscoe Woman in Application For Divorce From Husband — Chased Her From House By Throwing Dishes At Her, Wife Alleges.

That her husband refused to furnish proper medical aid at the time her last child was born; that he ran her out of their home in Roscoe by throwing dishes at her, and that he, on several occasions kicked her, blacked her eyes and choked her, are some of the sensational allegations made by Jennie Groce Richesson, who, on Thursday, started suit against Willard Richeson for divorce through her attorney C. O. Turner.

Mrs. Richesson alleges that her husband procured a revolver and threatened to kill her. She says that she was compelled to take in washings. During the last two years of their married life, she alleges that her husband would stay out late at night, coming home at 12 and 1 o'clock.

She charges that he has been guilty of adultery, naming a woman living in Roscoe as corespondent.

Habitual drunkenness, adultery, gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are the four grounds upon which she asks for divorce and to be restored to her maiden name of Jennie G. Badenelle. She asks for the custody of their three minor children and that Richesson be restrained from disposing of any of the household goods. She also sues for allmony.

The couple was married in Roscoe on January 22, 1904.

GIRL AND BABE ARE FOUND IN DENTIST OFFICE

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., Aug. 17. Weakened and frail, but a shell of the robust girl who 18 months ago was the belle of the local high schools, pretty little Jessie McDonald, 18, hugging tightly to her breast a cooing baby of a few months, today rested in her own home for the first time in a year and a half.

The girl was found yesterday by Chief of Police Mespelt, who broke down the doors of a room adjoining the office of A. W. McDavid, a dentist, and rescued the child from her prison of many months.

DR. FESS TALKS TO TEACHERS

Horace Mann Ably Discussed By Noted Educator.

The child as the real factor in the public school came in for long discussion and able discourse at the Thursday sessions of the Institute at the Chautauqua and many excellent points were brought out. The lecture of Horace Mann was also an educational treat.

Wednesday Afternoon.

Dr. Blair's afternoon address, "The School and the Home," was one of the most interesting yet given. The two forces which have most to do with the child's growth are heredity and environment. After the child has come into the world the former is beyond our control but the latter element is mostly in the hands of the school and the home.

Dr. Blair calls the child the welding influence of the home—the center around which all true home forces center. This child furnishes the bond between the school and home which should bring these two institutions in the closest relation and cooperation possible.

Education is a selective process, selecting that which is best and weeding out the bad. Do not classify pupils by their faults but by their virtues. No teacher should enter a school prejudiced against any pupil through the report of a former teacher. The boy must not be charged with the sins of his parents, but if such unfortunate circumstances occur help him to outlive and forget them. Do not look on him as the son of a thief but as a possibility for a good, well educated American citizen.

The hme having the child under its control such a large proportion of the time cannot load on the school its responsibility. The boy who behaves at home will usually behave at school. When the home is interested in the progress of the child in school the child will have more interest in his own progress.

SEEKS FATHER NOW MISSING 17 YEARS

Squire Wimmer Gets Letter From Daughter of An Old Friend Long Mysteriously Missing — No Clue at This Late Day.

After having lost trace of her father, Gotlieb Feas, a former resident of Conesville, Mrs. Mattie Elliott, who lives at Boone, Ia., is making a rigid search in order to find him.

Whether he is dead she does not know and if he is living she has no idea of his whereabouts.

It has been 17 years since she heard from him and the woman is anxious to find him.

Squire M. W. Wimmer, of this city, a personal friend of Mr. Feas, remembers the man well. He left Coshocton about 17 years ago for Michigan, saying that he was going to enter a soldiers' home there. A few years later Squire Wimmer lost trace of the man and could not even find him to make out his pension voucher. Since that time he has not heard of the man until he received the letter from Mrs Elliott, Wednesday.

Squire Wimmer says that Mr Feas was a member of Company G, 122nd Ohio Volunteer infantry. He lived at Conesville for a number of years and was well known there and in Coshocton among the older residents

The letter which was received by the squire from the missing man's daughter follows:

Boone, Ia., Aug. 11, 1911.

Squire M. Wimmer, Coshocton, O.

Dear Sir: — This representing myself in person, which I hope will be sufficient, I am Gotlieb Feas' daughter and I am trying to find my father. I have lost track of him in the last 16 or 17 years. He then left Conesville, Ohio, saying he was going to the soldiers' home in Michigan I do not know whether he went there or not and as you were spoken of as his most personal friend I thought maybe you knew something of him and you could tell me if he had gone to Michigan and what the soldiers' home address was. If you know nothing more than what regiment he belonged to and address, I could find out if he had gone there or was dead. Please answer as soon as convenient.

Respectfully,

MRS MATTIE ELLIOTT.

EVANS WAS AMONG THE PRIZE SINGERS

City Auditor Evans returned Wednesday afternoon from Lancaster where he participated in the big musical contest held at the camp grounds four miles out of Lancaster Monday and Tuesday. Evans ran close in each contest in which he was entered. In the baritone solo he was third His quartette composed of Messrs. Jones of Lima, Bright brothers of Bellefontaine and Evans took second prize. Gabriel, the famous sacred song writer, acted as one of the judges. The other judges were Mrs. Conklin of Delaware and Calvert of Lima.

WOMAN IS BURNED.

Mrs. Caroline Kimberly of South Second street slipped and fell Wednesday afternoon while she was carrying two buckets of boiling water and the contents of the two buckets were spilled on her left arm and shoulder. Dr. Pomerene was called and dressed the injuries. She will be unable to use her arm for some time.

BRAIN TUMOR FOUND.

Drs. Pomerene, Shaw and McMichaels of Keene, held a post-mortem examination over the body of Mrs. Marshall Endsley Tuesday morning to ascertain the cause of her death. A brain tumor was found that had been pressing against the optic nerves, and it was this that slowly caused her death.

WEST LAFAYETTE SEWER STILL TANGLED

At the adjourned meeting of the West Lafayette council held Wednesday night nothing definite was done in regard to the storm sewer question. Since the injunction was filed by the owners of the land, across which the tile was to be hauled for the sewer, nothing has been done to straighten out the matter, although several attempts have been made to arrive at some definite settlement.

An Age reporter interviewed E. L. Thompson, clerk of the council, today but he said that they were just as far as ever from a definite settlement. He stated that something would have to be done soon and that at the next meeting in two weeks some action would probably be taken.

A committee of four of the councilmen with the mayor of the town came to Coshocton this morning to confer with their attorneys and Judge Nicholas. They will probably know something certain about what can be done in the very near future.

FOUND A NOTE ON HIS DOOR

New Philadelphia, Aug. 17. — Blair Skeels, former traction line conductor of the line between this city and Uhrichsville, now a farmer near Roswell, returned home last evening and found the following letter tacked to a door of his barn:

"By God, Skeels, you leave $500 under the big stone at the corner of the barn by Friday night or you lose your life."

Skeels thinks it is a joke, but his family are frightened. The police are working on the case.

Boy's Story Causes Mother's Arrest

The two people face a serious charge. Under the juvenile act the penalty is severe. The maximum penalty is $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

The authorities do not doubt the boy's statements and intend to make a full investigation of the case.

McCleary and Mrs. Armstrong appeared before Judge Ashman in probate court Thursday afternoon and each entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a jury trial. Their bond was fixed at $250 each and neither being able to pay both were remanded to jail.

Egyptian Smokers and Madness.

An Egyptian smoker of hasheesh is even a more helpless slave than the Chinese opium fiend. He knows that in the end he will become a madman, yet he rushes toward the awful goal with unrelaxed speed. With the strange exaltation which first comes to the smoker he feels himself floating from cloud to cloud or alighting in the gardens of palaces all his own. Most of the hasheesh which Egypt consumes comes from Greece. From the husks of the hemp seeds and the tender tops of the hemp plant the Greeks manufacture a greenish powder whose fumes bring the ecstasy its victims desire.

RUMOR THAT SHORT CUT MAY COME

Cambridge Paper Says Penna Lines Will Go to Bird's Run

The following item from the Guernsey County Times says that the Pennsylvania railroad contemplates building a short cut from Birds Run to Coshocton to get away from the heavy haul on the Post Boy hill. Nothing is known about the rumor in Coshocton. The item says:

A well substantiated rumor is afloat that the Pennsylvania company expects to begin work at once building the new short line from Bird's Run to Coshocton. It has been reported that engineers are already at work surveying the route for the new line. At the local office no notice to this effect has ben received although the rumor had reached the office.

The proposed cut-off has been talked of for several years and it it thought that since the recent consolidation of the C. & M. and the T., W. V. & O. the decision has been made to build the new connecting link. It would save the heavy hauling over the Post Boy hill and would no doubt be a paying investment.

Perils of Marriage

Young married people have man obstacles to overcome before they reach the smooth pathway which experience will provide. The young housewife finds her most difficult problem in keeping things "shipshape" for "hubby" returning from his day's endeavors.

WASTED ELOQUENCE.

His One Great Speech Was Wholly Lost on President Cleveland.

Colonel Franklin Pierce Morgan of Washington and New York never made but one great speech, and the story of it is pathetic. His audience was Grover Cleveland, then president of the United States, and his purpose was to secure a pardon for a murderer named O'Neil, in whom the colonel had become interested.

"I'll never forget that day," said the colonel in telling about the incident. "I had told Dan Lamont the day before that I intended to ask Cleveland to pardon O'Neil, who was a creature of the dark places at times, but a pretty good fellow at that. Cleveland had taken the precaution to send to the department of justice and get the papers in the case.

"I got up early the next morning, had a massage and was feeling tiptop. I got in to see Cleveland, and I spoke twenty minutes. Never in my life, before or since, have I been as eloquent as I was pleading for that fellow O'Neil. The end of every sentence I uttered brushed the edges off a cloud. I concluded my argument confident that I had swept the president off his feet.

"'Mr. Morgan,' he said, 'is that all you have to say on behalf of your friend?'

"Mind you, he said 'friend.'

"'Yes, Mr. President,' I said, 'I think that's all.'

"'Mr. Morgan,' he replied, 'never as long as I am in the White House shall that consummate scoundrel—consummate scoundrel, mind you—get out of the penitentiary.'

"What's the use of eloquence, anyhow?" concluded the colonel.—Buffalo Express.

OHIO NEWS

Willing to Obey Law.

Columbus, O., Aug. 17.—Field deputy inspectors, who reported to Chief Inspector of Workshops and Factories T. P. Kearns at a meeting in his office, declared that larger manufacturers of the state, almost to a man, would obey the nine-hour law for women. Even pending the decision affecting the validity of the law manufacturers are inclined to obey it. Factory owners in smaller centers are more inclined to resist the enforcement of the law than those in larger centers.

Big Debate Arranged.

Columbus, O., Aug. 17.—Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati, secretary of the Ohio Progressive Constitution league, and Allen Ripley Foote, president of the Ohio state board of commerce, will be pitted against each other on the question of the initiative and referendum next Tuesday evening before the united constitution committees of Franklin county, according to present plans.

Forgets to Appear In Court.

Springfield, O., Aug. 17. — Unless John G. Webb, president of the Columbus, Delaware and Marion company, appears to testify before Special Master Judge W. M. Rockel here on Aug. 28, judgment will be given on the evidence submitted by the plaintiff, Receiver Eli West, who asks for an accounting of $2,000,000 in cash, stocks and bonds.

Would-Be Suicide Rescued.

Columbus, O., Aug. 17.—Paul Goodrich, a Russian, 28, created endless excitement, when he leaped from the West Town street bridge into the Scioto river, with suicidal intent. He was rescued by Patrolman Roy Andrix assisted by other policemen. The man is held at the police station for safekeeping and his sanity will be inquired into.

Strikers Arrested.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 17.—Three disturbances, which caused riot calls to be sent to police headquarters and to which big squads of police responded, marked the big parade of the striking garment workers, in which the wives and babies of the strikers were featured. Six arrests were made.

Will Talk to Prisoners.

Columbus, O., Aug. 17.—Announcement has been made by officials at the penitentiary that on Sunday morning Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth of the Volunteer Prison league will address the convicts at Ohio's big prison. She is an earnest advocate of pay for state prisoners.

Falls From River Packet.

Gallipolis, Aug. 17.—Dallas Simms, a well-to-do Kanawha farmer, was drowned when he fell from a packet boat near Crown City, several miles from this place. Simms was leaning over the rail and suddenly lost his balance.

Shot In Fence Quarrel.

Pomeroy, O., Aug. 17.—A line fence difficulty between Martin K. Stobart and William Rasp, farmers, culminated in Rasp shooting Stobart in the face with a double barrel shotgun. Stobart's eyes were put out.

THE SERENADE.

An Old Romantic Custom That Has Fallen Into Desuetude.

In recalling the serenade of the Philharmonic society to Mlle. Nilsson I am reminded of a custom now fallen into desuetude, but which at the time I speak of (1870) was a favorite method of bestowing a marked compliment upon any one whom you wished particularly to honor.

The serenade was not only offered to visitors of distinction, but prevailed extensively as a delicate attention which you might pay to the lady of your choice. It was thought the proper thing at that period for a man to engage the best brass band he could afford and to proceed with it after midnight to the house of his preferred and then to stand beneath the windows while the musicians played their most sentimental and sonorous selections. It was not an uncommon sound even to hear a double quartet of male voices, with a French horn thrown in, singing beneath the windows of some favored damsel, while paterfamilias or the butler made ready some light refreshment for the donors of this graceful compliment.

These romantic attentions have taken flight with the advent of electric lights, elevated railroads and other voices of the night, but even New York had a few hours of stillness after midnight, and the night watchman lent an indulgent ear to these revelers, who would doubtless be locked up as disturbers of the peace did they hazard such an enterprise under our modern regime.—Richard Hoffman's "Musical Recollections."

KANSAS IS FAST BEING TAFT STATE

Sentiment Has Veered Completely Around Since Year Ago.

(Gus. J. Karger.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—"If President Taft were to run today, he couldn't carry a township in Kansas."

So said Henry J. Allen, of the Wichita Daily Beacon, associated with Senator Bristow in the management of certain Kansas newspaper properties.

A man well informed, politically, and one whose judgment can not be waived aside, impatiently or otherwise. Therefore, when he said that President Taft couldn't carry a county in Kansas, he was entitled to respectful attention. But don't get excited. He didn't say this yesterday. He said it last winter, on the occasion of a New York banquet.

What does he say now?

"President Taft is in better condition than he was a few months ago. Although President Taft's reciprocity treaty is not popular in Kansas, the president himself has gained in popularity," is the way he puts it now, quite guardedly. "I think this is due to the fact that the newspapers have ceased their criticism and are giving less space to the activities of the insurgent element in the party. The approach of a national election has brought about a desire for political peace. All the members of the party, practically, expect Mr. Taft to be the nominee."

Some sommersault, that, coming from a leading insurgent after a lapse of only a few short months. Despite the encouragement the message carries, it isn't fully representative of the real change that has overcome Kansas.

"A wave of Taft sentiment is traveling rapidly over the rich prairie land of the state," is the way the latest Kansas reports put it. "It is sweeping insurgency from its moorings—that is to say that particular species of insurgency which is bent upon a rule or ruin policy in the Republican party. Republicans are now apostrophising the president, whereas a few months ago they were assailing him. Now Taft is coming into his own and practically everywhere the prediction is made that he will be able to count upon the support of the Kansas delegation at the next national convention. There has been a tremendous revolution in sentiment which foreshadows the melting away of any serious objection to the instruction of delegates in all the congressional districts for Pres. Taft."

Pretty strong language that, coming from the state of Bristow, chief ally of La Follette.

Atwood Leaves Toledo

Toledo, O., Aug. 17.—Harry N. Atwood made a landing at the lower edge of Bayview park. Crowds rushed to the side of the aeroplane and almost swept the aviator off his feet.

Atwood was in the air 2 hours and 51 minutes and traveled 134 miles, between Elkhart and Toledo. He was in the air 2 hours and 6 minutes after leaving Elkhart and when his first stop for gasoline was made at Pettisville had covered 96 miles in continuous flight.

Discussing the Chicago accident, Atwood said: "As soon as they take aviation out of the hands of promoters the better it will be. The responsibility for the barbarous deaths of William R. Badger and St. Croix Johnstone at Chicago rests upon the promoters of the meeting. Promoters exact flights under unfavorable and unsafe conditions. Such practices result in the wasting of lives needlessly. I am in the game for the advancement of science and to bring the long-distance record to America."

Atwood left here for Cleveland early this morning.

THE STATE FAIR THE PRIDE OF THE GREAT BUCKEYE STATE

Fifteen hundred ambitious boys coming down the home-stretch is the best way to describe the great Boy's Race for the Free Trip to the Ohio State Fair. The old folks, preachers, teachers, politicians, grangers, Sunday schools, christians and sinners are becoming involved in some counties. Even congressmen and federal officials at Washington are writing letters for their favorites. Some of the boy candidates are inducing their fathers to trade votes at the coming primary elections to nominate township officers, in order to secure votes for the State Fair trip. Some of the boys are making a quiet but effective canvass by personal visits and writing letters.

Every boy has an equal chance. Entries are open until 10 o'clock Saturday, Aug. 19, at which time all applications must be in the hands of the president of the board of county commissioners, or if he is not in his office to be left with the county auditor. The presidents of all independent farmer institutions, regular farmer picnics, pioneer picnics, county poultry associations, county horticultural associations are included in the meaning of "all other county agricultural organizations," as prescribed by the rules. It costs the boy nothing to try. Good care will be taken of him. Governor Harmon will visit the Boys' Model camp, which will be near the National Guard camp on the grounds. No voting by proxy will be allowed. The boys must get their friends to attend and vote in person. No person can cast more than one vote. Hundreds of letters are being received asking that rules be changed This is useless. Some letters come unsigned or badly written. Two alternates are to be chosen who will come in turn if the boy ahead of him can not come. Letters addressed to the boys in care of the Boys' Camp, State Fair Grounds, will be promptly delivered to them.

The Ladies' State Fair.

Monday, Aug. 28, will be Ladies' Free Day at the big fair. Hundreds will come and stay for several days after that. The increased premiums for exhibits in the Woman's building will make that vast hall a fairy-land this year. It will be decorated and ornamented as never before. The ladies will find a thousand things to please and instruct them. The Art Hall will contain art treasures never before seen upon a fair ground in Ohio. Many of the city artists will compete this year. The entries indicate that the display of china painting will excel in both quantity and quality.

The State Exhibitors.

Almost every state department will let the people see what part of the state's work it is doing. These exhibits will be instructive. They will be attractive. Citizens can gain some idea for what purposes the public money is expended. The work of the state veterinarian, the nursery and orchard inspector and the department of agriculture in general will be shown along with other exhibits. The federal government at Washington co-operates with the state highway commissioner in making one of the most unique and interesting exhibits. This will be the first time the government has participated in a state fair. All Ohio congressmen and senators joined in the request for Uncle Sam to do this.

Live Stock Show.

There is new life and ambition among Ohio and middle west breeders. The ribbons taken in the Columbus Show Ring have a greater value than thore won elsewhere. The ambitious owner of a good animal is conscious of the fact that if he wins at the Ohio state fair, he has established his standing as a breeder and can obtain good prices. It is this enviable position which Ohio has won that has made our capital city the undisputed battle ground of the breeds.

Gaining Confidence.

The state fair is growing in favor and gaining the confidence of the best citizens. Men prominent in financial circles, industrial enterprises, railroad managers, trades and professions are lending a helping hand to a good cause. The strength and real wealth of the state and nation must come out of the ground. Every person who wants the world to become better and methods improved ought to see the state fair.

The Cities Are Taking Notice.

When an increased population and a decreased food production and the high cost of living going higher the cities are taking notice of the importance of agriculture. The farmer will have sufficient unto himself, while those in the city may be in want and hunger if the farm fails to produce enough garden sass to go round. Out on the farm there will be 'taters in the cellar, meat in the smoke-house, eggs in the nest, and milk in the pitcher, when some of the cupboards in the great city will be like Old Mother Hubbard's—not even a bone. Those who live in cities can well afford to attend and support the state fair and all other occasions that tend to help the cause of agriculture.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its benencial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

ACKNOWLEDGE IT

Coshocton Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Citizens Prove It.

After reading the public statement of this representative citizen of Coshocton given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this:

Mrs. W. H. Carroll, 506 Chestnut street, Coshocton, O., says: "Kidney trouble had completely broken down my health and the doctor could give me only temporary relief. Pains radiated from my kidneys to all parts of my body and I often felt as though I would have to take to my bed. The kidney secretions were unnatural. Finally I gave up doctoring, believing there was no help for me. About that time a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Siegrist & Williams' drug store. In a week after I began their use, the pains in my back disappeared and the kidneys were doing their work as they should. My health is now better than it has been for years."

(Statement given August, 28, 1906.)

Confirmed Proof.

Mrs. Carroll was interviewed on May 7, 1909 and she said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me my health has been excellent. I gladly confirm the testimonial I have previously given in praise of this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

SOLDIERS WILL PROTECT TRAINS

England Prepares For General Traffic Tieup—Situation Explained.

London, Aug. 17.—The government's preparations to insure the working of the railways include orders for 25,000 men at Aldershot to be in readiness to move at a moment's notice to protect lives around London. These embrace artillery engineers and commissary men as well as cavalrymen.

Trains are assembled at Aldershot, where the troops will entrain. In the event of a general strike the big stations will be garrisoned permanently while the cavalry will patrol the lines. Similar orders have been promulgated at other military centers in the United Kingdom. The Midland railroad has offered a bonus of 50 per cent for all men working during the strike.

Sir William Granet, manager of the Midland railway, announced that the government had undertaken to put at the service of the railway companies every available soldier in the country. This protection is to be given at once. Arrangements have already been made with the war office as to the points to which the troops will be sent and the number necessary at each point.

Troops began to move to the principal centers in the north of England. Sir William said that the Midland would insure service. The government realizes that the recent partial strikes paralyzed the country's trade, and if transportation be further held up conditions will go from very bad to worse. The government and the railways are necessarily working together in this matter. The companies are taking their present stand for the sake of the state, and if the men want it they will have a fight to a finish. Sir William said:

"I anticipate that no more than 25 or 30 per cent of the men will go on strike, but we are making preparations on the assumption that 75 per cent will strike.

TROOPS QUELL RIOTERS

Strikers Continue Troublesome In Liverpool Streets.

Liverpool, Aug. 17.—A mob attacked and damaged the motor wagons carrying newspaper supplies in Scotland road. The infantry fixed bayonets and formed a square about the motors until damages were repaired while the police dispersed the mob with their clubs. There were many arrests.

The strike committee called out the men on the street railway, and mobs smashed the windowpanes of cars that were left standing in the streets.

There are now 2,500 soldiers here. Only their presence keeps down the mobs. The menace from famine has not abated. Many small tradesmen have sold out completely and are unable to get more supplies. A number of flour mills have stopped because of lack of coal, and bread is more difficult to get in some instances.

PROMISE NEUTRALITY

English Political Leaders Say Strikers Will Get Square Deal.

London, Aug. 17.—In the house of commons John Ward, Labor member from Stoke-on-Trent, asked if the inference gathered from newspapers that the government was going to support the railways against the employes was correct.

Home Secretary Winston Churchill said that the government would not support either one or the other, but that it would be the government's duty, in the event of the paralysis of the roads, to insure full protection to enable them to be worked so as to avert disaster. Otherwise the nation would be overwhelmed through the stoppage of the machinery upon which depended its very life. Lloyd-George also repudiated warmly the inference and declared that the government certainly would not back up either party in the dispute, but while observing the utmost impartiality, it was bound to protect life and property on the railways.

WILEY TELLS HOW HE WAS HAMPERED

Also How the People's Money Was Thrown Away.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley laid bare to the house investigating committee the obstacles against which he said he had struggled to administer the pure food laws. He also declared the people's money was squandered and the administration of the law hampered by the creation of a "pure food inspection bureau," in which he was a helpless minority.

He asserted that Solicitor McCabe and Associate Chemist Dunlap, the two officials whom Wiley's supporters claim are banded together 'to oust the pure food champion, "were generally antagonistic to him." To illustrate his own helplessness on the board, Wiley told how on perhaps 100 occasions where he and Dunlap agreed on chemical questions as against McCabe, a second vote would be ordered, and the second time Dunlap would support McCabe, who is not a chemist.

He declared that the law gave his bureau the right to determine the purity or impurity of any food product. He said that the food and drug inspection board, of which he, Solicitor McCabe and Dr. Dunlap are members, has the duty of passing on all decisions of the bureau of chemistry, and had overruled the bureau in about two-thirds of the cases.

"When you and Dr. Dunlap have differed in matters of chemistry, how many times have you been sustained by the deciding vote of McCabe?" asked Representative Flood (Dem.) of Arkansas.

"Only once," answered Dr. Wiley. "It was when I said rye whisky should be made from rye." Dr. Dunlap disagreed and in a letter McCabe agreed with me."

ELLA IS STILL ON THE JOB

New York, Aug. 17.—The National Suffrage association is in receipt of a letter from Ella Wilson, mayor of Hunnewell, Kan., in which she denies recently published reports that she had said "politics is not a woman's game," and that she intended to resign. On the other hand, Ella declares that she will not quit her job, but will continue to fight for better morals until Hunnewell is purged of its whisky and gambling elements.

Deny Harriman Rumors.

New York, Aug. 17. Robert S. Lovett, president of the Union and the Southern Pacific railroads, and C. A. Peabody, a director and close adviser of Mrs. E. H. Harriman, joined in the following statement: "There is absolutely no truth in the report published in New York that Mrs. Harriman is liquidating her Union Pacific holdings. Mrs. Harriman is 25 miles from a railroad in Idaho and is not in any way concerned in the present market movement."

ADJOURNMENT IS POSPONED

Democrats Think Tariff Needs More Revising—Debate Follows.

Washington, Aug. 17. — Congress will not adjourn Saturday as expected; and the dreams of members who had hoped to get away on vacations were blasted when it was announced that senate Democrats in a caucus had decided to enter upon a more general revision of the tariff than has heretofore been contemplated. The Democratic senators were in a conference behind closed doors, and after a stormy debate the sense of the conference was finally taken as in favor of a vote on the house cotton bill, together with Senator Cummins' amendment revising the iron and steel schedules and Senator Overman's amendment revising the chemical schedule, or so much of it as relates to the cotton manufacturing industry.

In taking this action the Democrats are playing politics. They know there is no hope of getting any tariff legislation past President Taft. Senator LaFollette has been shaking his finger at the Democratic leaders for several days and warning them that they might find themselves in embarrassing circumstances if they did not co-operate with him and his band of insurgents. His arguments and threats have finally prevailed. The action of the Democratic caucus will postpone adjournment of congress for at least another week, and possibly until Sept. 1.

AVIATOR TAKES BATH IN LAKE

Arthur Stone's Queen Monopane Makes High Dive.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Several new sensations developed at the international aviation meet in this city. Arthur Stone, in a Queen monoplane, fell into Lake Michigan in the over-water speed race. Lincoln Beachy's engine died on him when he was 3,000 feet in the air and he volplaned the distance down, landing the Curtiss biplane directly in front of the judges' stand. Howard Gill fell when rounding "death curve," at the north end of the field. His Wright biplane turned completely over, but he escaped injury. Another aviator fell into "death hole," the sunken pit in the center of the field, in which William Badger was dashed to death, but both aviator and machine escaped injury.

The honors of the day fell to the Curtiss aeroplane and to Lincoln Beachy, who walked away with the largest money prizes. The results of the day were:

Speed race, six laps around the course, distance eight miles, won by Beachy in 9 minutes 28 2-5 second, prize $1,000; second, Earl L. Ovington; third, Jimmie Ward.

Across the lake, around the 2½-mile crib and the flying field, two laps, about 16 miles, first, Thomas Sopwith, time 17:07, prize $1,000; second, Rene Simon; third, Lincoln Beachy; third, Jimmie Ward.

It was a heavy day, with the wind blowing fitfully, and the aviators eyed the sky, sniffed the wind and shook their heads. They felt there were various air pockets, holes and cross-currents that would twist and jerk the aeroplanes around very quickly, and they thought flying would be dangerous.

Littleton Introduces Bill.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Martin W. Littleton's bill providing for the creation of an industrial and corporate commission to study industrial and commercial conditions, with a view to recommending to congress the enactment of a new anti-trust law, was introduced in the house today. The Littleton bill provides for a commission of 15 members, five senators, five representatives and "five persons not members of the congress, to be appointed by the president."

Young Released by Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 17.—After pitching big league baseball for twenty-two years, Cy Young, the most famous pitcher the game of baseball has ever known, one of the two modern players who had the honor of pitching a game in which not one of his opponents reached first base, was granted his unconditional release by the Cleveland club. It was the first time during his career as a baseball player that he had drawn an outright release.

Easy Stairs.

The very acme of ease is reached in stairs that have treads twelve to fifteen inches broad and risers five to seven inches high. The run or distance in most houses is too short to allow of this, but they should come as near it as the architect of the house will permit. It is so easy to climb such stairs that one hardly is aware of any effort.

INDICT DEAD MAN

Two Arrests Made as Result of Wickersham's Charges.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 17.—John H. Bullock, formerly president of the Sesnor Coal company of Seattle and Alaska, and Charles E. Houston, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Coast company, Seattle, owner of coal mines in Alaska, were arrested on indictments charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government on Alaska coal contracts. Captain J. P. Jarvis, who is named in the indictment as the third of the group of alleged conspirators, committed suicide in Seattle several weeks ago. The arrest of Bullock and Houston is the first criminal prosecution brought as a result of the Wickersham-Wickersham controversy.

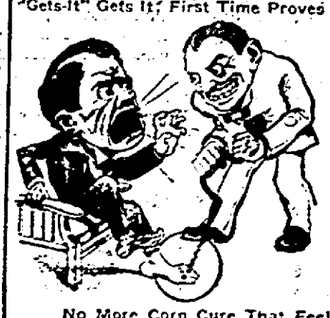
New Corn Cure A Marvel!

"Gets-It" Gets It; First Time Proves It



No More Corn Cure That Feels Like This.

Beats them all, the new corn cure that corn-pestered people have been looking for ever since the age of shoes. Does it really do the work? Well, just one trial will prove it.

The name of this big surprise is "GETS-IT," because it gets it. You don't have to wrap your toes in bandages. There are no plasters, no salves. What is more, "GETS-IT" will never, absolutely can't, hurt or make raw the true flesh as many other corn things do. If it gets on the skin, it won't, can't hurt or injure the flesh. Apply it in two seconds. It's guaranteed, or your money is refunded.

Your druggist sells "GETS-IT," 25 cents per bottle, or direct if you wish, from E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Coshocton by C. E. Anderson, Smith Drug Co. and Siegrist & Williams.

NEWCOMERSTOWN FINDS WOOL A GOOD INDUSTRY

It is stated that Messrs. Lee Swigert & Son have purchased and shipped from this vicinity about 130,000 pounds of wool this season. This distributes among the farmers of the neighborhood upwards of $25,000. It goes without saying that the largest part of this money was distributed in Newcomerstown, the merchants and trades men each getting a share. These in turn would scatter their share for labor, drayage, etc., so that the whole neighborhood profited by this extensive wool deal.—Newcomerstown Index.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

(Millersburg Republican.)

The Holmes county teachers' institute is in session here this week, the first session being held Monday morning. The attendance is large. Hon. J. A. McDowell, superintendent of the Ashland schools; Prof. A. W. Elliott, superintendent of the Millersburg schools, and Miss Anna E. Hurst, of Lorain, are the instructors. Miss Hurst is instructing in primary methods. On Friday afternoon Hon. A. P. Sandles, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, will address the teachers.

High Praise for the Work of Dr. Fisher

Boston Literary Magazine Pays Handsome Tribute to Former Coshocton Minister.

"The Writer," a Boston literary magazine has the following this month concerning Dr. Stokely Fisher, now of Kansas City, but until this summer pastor of the local M. P. church: "Stokely S. Fisher, whose poem, 'When Life is play,' was published in the Columbian for March, is a clergyman at Coshocton, O. Mr. Fisher is an enthusiastic student of microscopical biology and the natural sciences, and poetry has been with him a lifelong devotion. He says he cannot remember when he did not compose verses, and some of his early poems were printed in newspapers and religious periodicals. Then for more than a dozen years he wrote little or nothing. When he was elected president of the West Lafayette college, in 1906, he again found time and opportunity to resume writing, and since severing his connection with the college and taking up pastoral work, he has devoted more time than ever to writing poetry. His verses have been published in the Smart Set, the Metropolitan, the National Monthly, the New Idea Woman's Magazine, Gunter's, Education, the Bohemian, Field and Stream, Outdoor Life, the Homiletic Review, the Sunday School Times, the Mother's Magazine, the Adult Bible Class Monthly, the Sunday School Journal, the Bible Students' Magazine, the Illustrated Sunday Magazine, and the Literary Magazine."

A Warning Heeded.

"I once heard your wife recite 'Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight,'" said the reminiscent friend.

"Yes," responded Mr. Meekton, with a smile of confident approval. "And I take notice that the curfew has gone out of business."—Washington Star.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong. Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

REITERATED.

If the mayor or the Democratic organ can glean any grain of comfort or satisfaction out of the letter from the state inspector in regard to his interview by an Age reporter last Saturday they are welcome to it.

He says his examination of the water works records did not disclose that politics had entered its management. No, those things are seldom found in the books. He does not in any place in his letter, deny that he made the statements, which he did make to The Age reporter, merely trying to evade the contents of the statement in generalities.

The facts are the interview was correct, absolutely. And the inspector is not to be censured for making comments upon obvious facts. He said he was at a loss to know why some action had not been taken; in that he is not alone. He has for company 90 per cent. of the taxpayers and citizens of this city. We are all at a loss to know why some action has not been taken.

The item was printed as news, but in very truth, it makes first class political matter, and we are grateful to our Democratic contemporary for adding to its publicity. They might also reprint the items concerning the same in today's Age. The attempts of the Democratic organ to continually apologize for the mayor's lame management of the water situation are ludicrous. It is the people of Coshocton, patient and long suffering against unbearable conditions, on one side, and the Democratic organ and the mayor on the other. The public is glad to know that the Democratic organ endorses the mayor's attitude: that the Democratic organ really thinks the hill residents have had all the water this summer that they deserve; that the Democratic organ applauds the mayor as standing for a square deal; that the mayor and the Democratic publication stand on the same platform—and by the way, just what is the mayor's platform? His record?

That some verbal obliquity is necessary to the praising of the state administration must be admitted, but Mr. Harmon's personal press agent, furnishes information to all Democratic newspapers in regard to the state's finances in which there is no clause or implication which is not wholly false.

To quote: "There will be a handsome balance in the state treasury at the close of the Harmon administration notwithstanding Republican General Assemblies looted it and then attempted to saddle the Democratic state administration with the responsibility for the financial shortage Underlying public corporotions will this year pay into the state treasury $500,000 under the Willis tax law.

"For many years the Willis law has been on the statute books but no Republican state officer ever teempted to collect the levy from underlying public service corporations. This was the rankest favoritism. Farmers and owners of small homes—people who could least afford it — were compelled to pay high rates and these wealthy corporations escaped without paying a single dollar."

Contrast the foregoing fiction with the facts: The treasury figures show that the Democrats inherited a balance of six millions; the appropriations of the Harmon legislature compared with the estimates of the state's income show there will be a deficit at the end of the present administration. Even if the hope of collecting $500,000 from underlying corporations is realized, there will be at the end of the current fiscal year four millions less than when the Democrats came into power—they haven't a dollar of it in the treasury yet.

When the Willis law was passed Col. Thompson, then secretary of state undertook its collection, payment was refused because they also were taxed indirectly through the holding companies and the attorney general, Wade Ellis brought suit. The cases were not decided until after the Democratic attorney general took office. Was there neglect?

When the court reached a decision large newspaper headlines declared the Democratic attorney general was about to collect between four and five millions which Republican officials, through favoritism to corporations had failed to demand.

The press agent who sobs the statement that poor home-owners suffered through delay in collecting this Willis tax, should be shown that farmers and other home owners pay no taxes for state use at all since Nash was governor.

What It Costs Workingmen To Live Here

In "The Pilgrim's Scrip" of The American Magazine for September there is an interesting investigation of the cost of living among workingmen. In part, it says:

"After a searching analysis of the family budgets of three hundred and sixteen workingmen's families living in New York, Dr. Chapin says: 'An income under $800 is not enough to permit the maintenance of a normal standard. Whether an income between $800 and $900 can be made to suffice is a question to which our data do not warrant a dogmatic answer An income of $900 or over probably permits the maintenance of a normal standard, at least so far as the physical man is concerned.

"Studies in Homestead, Buffalo and Baltimore confirm for these cities the conclusions for New York city. A family can, therefore, maintain efficiency on about $3 a day in the leading eastern cities.

"This statement is interesting, but it can never be truly effective until we learn how many men get $3 per day.

"The most reliable average wage data are furnished by Massachusetts and New Jersey, Michigan, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, and Pennsylvania. A study of these shows that the average wages of all employees range, in the leading industries, from $450 to $600 per year—seldom rising above the latter figure except in industries like petroleum and malt liquors, for which males only are employed; seldom falling below except in industries like confectionery and paper boxes, which employ a majority of women, and in which the average annual earnings is less than $400

"In view of all the evidence, it is fair to say that the adult male wage workers in the industries of that section of the United States lying east of the Rockies and north of the Mason and Dixon line receive a total average annual wage of about $600; that this falls to $500 in some of the industries employing the largest numbers of persons, but rises to $700 or even $750 in a few highly skilled industries. That the average annual earning of adult females in the same area is about $350, with a very slight range, in the industries employing large numbers of adult females."

WILL EXPLODE COAL MINE AT BIG SHOW

Exposition at Pittsburg in October to Be of Practical Use.

WASHINGTON, D C., Aug. 17. — Thirty thousand miners are expected to attend the great national Mine Safety Demonstration to be held in Pittsburg, Pa., Oct 26 and 27 under the auspices of the Federal Bureau of Mines, the American Red Cross, the Pittsburg Coal Operators' Ass'n and the United Mine Workers of America.

The date, which was originally set for September 16, has been changed so that President Taft may be present on the second day, October 27, to witness a mimic mine explosion in a temporary steel gallery on Forbes field, an exhibition of rescue wark by helmeted miners following an explosion, and to review the parade of miners.

The President will make an address and will present souvenir prizes to the miners taking part in the first-aid-to the injured and rescue work exhibitions. Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior Department, Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, the director of the Bureau of Mines will also be present. The general arrangements for the demonstration are in charge of H. M. Wilson, engineer-in-charge of the Bureau of Mines.

The demostration, the purpose of which is to teach greater safety in mining, will begin the morning of October 26, at the Experiment station of the Bureau of Mines, Fortieth and Butler streets. The first day will be devoted to the interests of the mine operators, mine owners, mining engineers and superintendents of mines There will be an explosion of coal dust in the experiment gallery and tests of mine saftey lamps in gas. The dangers of electric sparks in gas and coal dust will also be shown in one of the galleries.

A class of miners will be trained in the use of the oxygen helmet which permits breathing in poisonous gasses for a period of two hours. The oxygen helmet has proved a valuable aid in entering mines filled with fire damp following an explosion

In the afternoon, the operators, engineers and superintendents will witness an actual mine explosion in the experimental mine of the Bureau at Bruceton, Pa., twelve miles from Pittsburg Coal dust will be allowed to accumulate in the mine and black powder, the use of which is strongly urged against by the Bureau in mines where there are dangerous conditions, will be used In other words, the Bureau's experts will carry out in this mine all the bad practices which they believe lead to explosions

The next morning, October 27, the demonstration will take place on Forbes field, the Pittsburg baseball park, in the presence of the President of the United States and other distinguished visitors A temporary steel gallery will be erected on the playing field and the cause of the recent great explosions in coal mines will be dramatically shown in an explosion of coal dust. Immediately following the explosion, members of one of the rescue corps of the Bureau, in their oxygen helmets, will rush into the smoke filled gallery and go through the work of rescue. Supposed victims of the explosion will be brought forth and given first-aid-to theinjured.

Expert rescue teams from the principal coal mines of the country will give friendly exhibitions and then the miners will pass in review of the President. The parade of the miners will continue downtown to the river front where a special pier has been assigned them to witness the marine parade in honor of the centenary of the beginning of steam navigation on the Ohio river. The miners' demonstration will conclude at noon and the remainder of the day will be taken up with the river centennial.

She Learned Something

"This is a fine coffee," said the visitor to her hostess; "how do you make it? I make mine so and so, but it never tastes like this." "Well," replied the hostess, "I make this the same way, but I've learned something. Maybe you don't keep your coffee pot clean—that is, I mean maybe you use common kitchen soap. I use Hewitt's Easy Task soap. It's pure and clean and white, and costs the same as the poor kinds. Then, too, it makes a nickel-plated coffee pot shine like silver."

SHAVES GO UP TO 15 CENTS IN CAMBRIDGE NOW

At a meeting of the Cambridge barbers' union, held Tuesday evening, a resolution was passed to make the price of a shave 15 cents straight, to take effect on and after September 1. At present a shave costs 10c and 5c extra for a neck shave. A great majority of barber shop patrons pay the 15c and secure both shaves, but this action will cause all to get both shaves, or at least pay for both.

BABES STARVING AT LIVERPOOL

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 17.—More than a thousand babies and double that number of children of tender years are actually starving to death in Liverpool today as the result of the shutting off of their milk supply. Their parents, impotent to relieve them, are besieging the city government offices begging and praying for food for their children, but nothing can be done to relieve the situation.

In addition all supplies of foodstuffs are already below the danger point and adults will also be facing starvation before many hours.

SHRINER IS FOUND DYING

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Aug. 17—Chas. B. Worley, 52 years old and one of the best known Shriners in the country, was found dying late last night in his apartments here.

His head was in a basin of water when the janitor of the building found him, and death ensued a few minutes later.

Worley was the stepson of Judge Willard who was a lawpartner of former President William McKinley.

Worley was born in Washington Court House, Ohio. His mother and two sisters now live in Cincinnati.

IMMORALITY AMONG OUR YOUTH

A few days, and school will begin. What mother is not interested and anxious that her boy or girl will do well in the school work? To do well in school work means to do well in life's work No one but the parent knows the sacrifices made, that the boy or girl may be furnished books, clothes, and other help in order that they do as well, and look as well as others while in school But when they fail in advancement, of lack of interest, how many of these parents have ever thought there may have been a cause, a physical defect, by which the child is disabled from giving proper application, and study to his work? The child does not realize the defect, and all you do know is his failure. If you do suspect there might be a cause, would you consult your family physician? If so why? The physician's whole course of study, and his practice is confined to the study of diseases, their treatment by medication and the practice of surgery and not for the correction or elimination of physical defects. In our next we will give you a history leading up to the causes and why. See the Age for Saturday.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear beautiful complexion that it is sold by C E. Anderson under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot inure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask C. E Anderson for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

MADDENED THE BEAR

The Mexicans in California had an ingenuous method of trapping bears before the advent of the Yankees brought modern firearms into the region. A piece of meat was nailed to the stout horizontal limb of an oak tree. From a limb five or six feet above a rope was suspended, to the end of which a large stone was made fast so that it hung about six inches above and a trifle nearer the trunk than the meat on the lower limb.

When a bear smelled the meat from afar he would climb up the tree and make his way to the bait. In doing so he would push the stone pendulum to one side. Just as he was about to fasten his teeth in the meat the stone would swing back and bang his head. This would arouse the anger of the bear, and he would give the stone a sweep of his paw which would send it swinging farther out. The consequence was a harder bang and more anger. The more he struck the stone the harder he would be hit in return, until from ferocious anger he would lose his caution and attack the pendulum with all his might. One powerful sweep, then bang, and bruin would be tumbled out of the tree to the rocks below, where, disabled by his fall, he would be at the mercy of those who set the trap whenever they chose to take him.

THE HANDY MAN.

His Job of Varnishing the Door Was Not a Howling Success.

Mr. Brewster thought his front door looked as though a coat of varnish would do it no harm and resolved to do it himself to save the expense of a painter.

Finding an old "golden sirup" tin in the yard, he went off to the shop for some "best oak varnish." He placed it in the pantry for the night and was up early next morning and by half past 12 had got the door finished.

"I don't like it now it's done," he said to his wife.

"It's bad varnish," replied she. "He's sold you the wrong sort of stuff."

He thought so, too, and went back to the shop, taking what was left with him.

"This is funny varnish you sold me," said he. "It's dull, sticky stuff."

After examining it the shopman said: "This is not what I sold you. This is sirup!"

It then dawned on him that he had got hold of the wrong tin, and he went back home to explain to his wife, who at once said: "Good gracious James! And I've made the pudding with the other tinful!" Then, after a moment's pause, "You'll dine today on roast mutton and varnish pudding!"—Pearson's Weekly.

The Gallery Gods' Applause.

Lawrence Barrett once told of a conversation he had with Edwin Booth. The latter had been congratulated upon an ovation given him by a crowded house on the opening night of an engagement. "The sweetest music to my ears," said the great tragedian, "is the shouting of the boys in the gallery. I know they are not applauding because I have a reputation or because they wish to make a display. They simply give vent to their natural enthusiasm. When they shout I know that I am giving a good performance. As for the parquet, it may clap its hands out of politeness. A dramatic critic who had certain notions as to how a line should be read will applaud if I read it his way; otherwise he will remain quiet. I can never analyze the applause of the front rows, but the gallery is sincere in its likes or dislikes."

Shakespeare's Education.

Shakespeare could not have been an educated man, that is, in the academic sense of the word, for he was a mere youth when he went to London from Stratford and had had, up to that time, only such mental training as he could pick up in the schools of his native town. It nowhere appears that he attended school after leaving Stratford. And yet, as Matthew Arnold says, he lived during his London residence "in a current of ideas in the highest degree animating and nourishing to the creative faculty in a society permeated by fresh thought, intelligent and alive." And he used not only the ideas which he imbibed as they floated around him, but all the learning he could pick up without neglecting his calling.—New York American.

Drawing the Disease Out.

The Chinese have a curious custom of trying to cure a sick man. A friend of the patient obtains a straight branch with a few leaves and twigs at the end. On this he hangs a mirror of polished steel, and under that one of the sick man's coats. Then he goes for a short walk, a priest in the meantime performing a ceremony. The coat, being carried in this way, is supposed to draw the disease from the sufferer.

Just So.

"He doesn't really love you. He's after your money."

"But if his love were not genuine how could he put so much fervor into his wooing?"

"Oh, a man can dig up considerable fervor when he has to marry money or go to work."—Exchange.

very interesting talk on the relation of physical defect in sight to the so-called slowness of pupils He urged the teachers to watch for such defects as closely as possible and urge upon the parents the correction of the defect as quickly as possible.

Dr. Blair's address was a continuation of Wednesday's address on "The School and The Home." Dr. Blair said, in part: The greatest heritage that a child can have is parents with a knowledge of child nature and growth, parents who will surround him with the best home influences and the best literature and companions. When most parents sing "Oh, Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" they do so not because they do not know where he is, but because they know and lament the fact that it is so Fathers and mothers must counsel with their children if they hope to keep them from bringing sorrow to them.

The present reign for disrespect for law is due not to the lack of law in the school but lack of respect for and obedience to law in the home. No man is truly free until he learns to submit himself to external authority. The first and greatest military law is obedience. The manliest quality is to know what law is and knowing learn to obey it.

Parents should keep their hands off the methods of the individual teacher but give their attention to sending the child to the school in the best possible condition to receive the instruction of the school. It is impossible to teach arithmetic, literature and history to the child improperly fed and nourished. The manner of dressing the children has much to do with their progress in school. The greatest problem is not the child insufficiently dressed but the one who is overdressed. Many children are seriously handicapped because their mothers send them to school over-dressed to the extent that their attention centers on their clothing raher than their lessons. School children's clothing should be neat and clean but not expensive so that they will not be conscious of any being poorly dressed.

It is the duty of parents to see that their children do not waste their energy in mid-week social functions. Such functions with their loss of sleep take more of the child's energies than their school work. Such pupils are present in body but not in mind.

After intermission Dr. Fess gave his lecture on Horace Mann. Dr. Fess being now president at Antioch college of which Horace Mann was president is especially well qualified to speak on Mann's life. The early life of the man who was to become the greatest American educational reformer with all his struggle against poverty was ably pictured by the speaker.

His service in the Massachusetts state legislature was marked by his authorship and support of those measures constructive and remedial. Such was his work in his successful efforts to get hospitals for the state. Two principles in which he believed were that all reform should begin with the child and not the old sinner and that if you wanted to "clean up" a boy you must begin with his mind by teaching him self-respect. Firmness in this belief led him to the organization and building of the public school system of Massachusetts and also its normal school system to train teachers for those schools. To this he added the district library system.

In 1848 he was elected to congress and spent much of the succeeding time in Europe studying education.

In 1853 just when he had been nominated governor of Massachusetts he was offered the presidency of Antioch college then to be organized in the west. He accepted on condition that the institutio should be open to men and women on equal terms and that it should be religious but not sectarian. From this institution was graduated the first woman who ever graduated in a class with her brother.

In closing Dr. Fess explained why he staid at Antioch in spite of the well-known fact that he receives only a small fraction of the salary he is able to command. In fact he went to Antioch at one-fourth the salary he received at Chicago. He stays because he loves to work in atmosphere made sacred educationally by such men as Horace Mann, Andrew D. White and many others, high in the realm of education ,and in the hope of putting this institution on the solid basis which it deserves.

ENGINE DROPS INTO THE WATER

Driver Jumps And Narrowly Escapes Injury.

Engineer Joe Hittle narrowly escaped death by being buried under a traction engine in three feet of water in Symmes creek, when a 30-foot iron span across the creek collapsed with the engine of a threshing outfit and the engine was thrown into the creek ten feet below and overturned.

Hitte jumped from the engine and alighted in the water and luckily escaped injury. The extent of the damage to the engine cannot be learned, as it is surrounded with water.

The accident happened on the Adamsville-Dresden road, a short distance from Adamsville. The creek was swollen because of the recent rains, and the engine dropped into three feet of water.

Bingham and His Nonsense Are a Joy Forever

Clever Entertainer is One Of the Most Versatile That Ever Visited Coshocton and Big Audience Was Delighted.

Ralph Bingham, the funniest of the funny, addressed a crowd at Chautauqua Wednesday night that in size was little short of the one which greeted William Jennings Bryan two nights before. Almost every seat in the big auditorium was taken and a few were standing along the walls. Everyone who heard Bingham went away pleased and with a peculiar mistiness around the eyes. The rapid fire of quaint and humorous remarks that was thrown into the audience fairly threw them into hysterics. Many times the speaker had to stop while the people quieted in order that his voice might be heard. Mr. Bingham is one of the most versatile entertainers that has been seen here this season. He is a professional entertainer—not a lecturer.

Bingham opened his program by telling a couple of the kind of stories that produce fits of laughter. Interspersed through the story were bits of nonsense so finely used and so opportune that for minutes at a time the crowd was thrown into one fit of laughter after the other. No sooner had the last snicker snickered than Bingham would cut loose on another short, concise but funny story and the crowd would go off on another trip through joyland.

"Bill and his one Tune" was the cause of momentary outbursts.

From the ridiculous Mr. Bingham went directly to the higher plane of entertaining. With Mrs. Bingham at the piano he played the Sextette from Lucia on the violin. He wields an exceptionally clever bow; has artistic ability of the highest order and wonderful technique. It was one of his most thoroughly appreciative numbers of the evening.

The popular prison scene from "Il Trovatore," "Los Misere" was beautifully executed. The violin sobbed and sighed and burst into heart felt passion until the audience was moved by its intensity.

Mr. Bingham's vocal solo, "Danny Deever," a heavy dramatic selection taken from Kipling's great poem was highly appreciated. Mr. Bingham has a clear baritone voice which pierces every corner of the big auditorium.

He closed the evening by giving a laughable reading in "darkie" dialogue. Coming as it did directly from the dramatic "Danny Deever" it was more intensely funny and more highly appreciated probably than had it been given earlier.

In its entirety Wednesday night's program was one of the best that has been heard this season.

TWIRLING WAS OF GILT-EDGE KIND

Orioles and Smokers Clash in a Very Light Game.

The Orioles and the Smoke House Stars clashed on the diamond at Riverside park Wednesday evening in a five-inning battle in which the Orioles came out victors by the close score of 2 to 1. The game was hard fought throughout, and had not the Stars been weak in their fielding the result might have been different.

Bretzius, pitching for the Orioles, allowed his opponents but one hit, while three safeties were secured off of the delivery of Sam Clendenning, the Smakers' pitcher. Outside of the pitching the feature playing of the game was contributed by "Skelley" Rogers, who presided at the first cushion for the Stars. Everything that came his way was handled in professional style.

Another game will probably be arranged for the near future between these two teams, as the Smokers are confident that they can turn the tables the next time. The line up:

Smoke House Stars—Clendenning, p; Jones, c; Tannehill, ss; Rogers, 1b; Foster, 2b; Struble, 3b; Scherrer, lf; Appis, cf; Wright, rf.

Orioles—A. Bretzius, p; F. Bretzius, c; Cuion, ss; R. Hook, 3b; Angelone, 1b; Powelson, 2b; A. Hook, rf; Hook, lf; Gildow, cf.

The score—

	R.	H.	E.
Smoke House Stars	1	1	6
Orioles	2	3	2

Lowers Year's Record

Billy Burke Surprises Talent at Columbus Meet

Columbus, O., Aug. 17. — A fairly fast track and ideal weather conditions greeted the steppers at the opening of the two weeks' independent race meeting here.

Billy Burke, with McDonald up, equalled the year's fastest trotting mark, made by Soprano at Cleveland, by stepping the distance in 2:06¾ in the first heat of the 2:05 trot. Incidentally the Billy Burke horse lowered his former record of 2:06¾.

The result of this heat was a distinct shock to the talent. Before the race Spanish Queen sold for $25, Hallworthy for $20, Brace Girdle for $33 and the field, including Billy Burke and Ora, for $15.

Chief interest in this afternoon's races centers in the $10,000 Hoster stake for 2:15 trotters and the $3,000 King stake for 2:04 pacers. Two unbeaten performers, Anvil from the Geers stable and R. T. C., Tommy Murphy's former plow horse, are to meet for the first time in the Hoster stake.

You can buy the best olive oil grown at Pentels, 50c pt. or $1 qt.

Circus Bareback Riders.

The career of a bareback rider with a circus is limited to about ten years. It is short not so much because these men and women lose their agility, but because they lose their nerve. The tension and application are so strained and marked that it is only a few riders who are able to perform their startling feats more than a decade. Recklessness and daring die when youth ripens into age, and as all riders, as a rule, marry young added responsibilities, coupled with a lively sense of danger, cause them to retire or else seek some less strenuous life. These riders are well paid, the majority of them commanding from $150 to $250 a week.—Jamestown Post.

WANT NEW TAX BASIS

Ohio Gas Men Tell Troubles to the Tax Commission.

Columbus, O., Aug. 17.—The office of the state tax commission is the Mecca of gas men representing several hundred millions of capital in Ohio. The object of their pilgrimage is to induce the commission to follow a different ruling in determining the value of their property than is followed in the cases of other public service corporations.

One point insisted upon by the gas men was that every gas field becomes exhausted in a comparatively few years, with the volume of gas diminishing each year. "For that reason," said Samuel T. Murdock, manager of a number of gas companies in northwestern Ohio, "you must permit us to make a bigger profit in order that our stockholders can get their money back before the supply is all gone and their stock becomes valueless."

Woman's Yellow Peril

Housewives wonder why the underwear, table linen, bedding and all other washable fabrics wear out—fall to pieces so quickly. It's the strong, yellow soap which eats through the fibre and weakens it to the tearing point. A pure, wholesome soap need be no more costly than these destructive compounds. Hewitt's Easy Task soap will prove this to be true.

It is a clean, white soap without the impurities of the crude, strong, yellow soaps, and will do the work with half the labor. Five cents a cake. Try it.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will return to Millersburg and take up their residence here in the near future.

Making Themselves Known.

"Persons who expect to receive money orders in a strange town take infinite precautions to identify themselves," said a postal clerk. "One way that particularly commends itself is for the stranger to call on the paying teller in the money order department before his own order arrives and present a bunch of correspondence showing pretty clearly who he is. He then explains that he is expecting a money order from a certain person. Can the clerk remember him when he presents it for payment? After that impressive introduction the clerk usually can remember and when the order is presented he cashes it."—New York Sun.

Dems and Insurgents Stultify Each Other

In There Frantic Endeavor to Get President "in a Hole" They Show Their Own True Natures.

(Gus J. Karger.)

Washington, Aug. 17.—"Logrolling" was the one great legislative evil against which it was the wont of Democrats and Insurgents to declaim.

"Logrolling" is the gentle art by which one legislator persuades another to support a measure which he opposes in return for which the legislator of the first part votes for a measure endorsed by the other, but, opposed by himself.

It is the highest of legislative stultification; the barter of personal independence and honor.

And what did the Insurgents and Democrats do in the United States senate?

They made a deal by virtue of which the control of the senate was to be taken out of the hands of the Republicans and a wool bill was to be passed—by virtue of which a so-called farmers' free list is to be passed, by virtue of which a cotton revision is to be put into effect.

The Democrats sold out the house wool bill. The Insurgents paid the price in the promise to support the other features of the proposed Democratic tariff revision.

The Insurgents have placed themselves on a high moral plane. They opposed the reciprocity measure—with a few exceptions—because that measure was the great Taft policy. Any measure from which President Taft might draw strength needed no other introduction. So far as they were concerned, it merited no consideration, no matter to what degree it might prove a boon to the American public.

They favored a bill reducing the wool schedules from equally exalted motives. They hope that it will put President Taft "in a hole." Senator Townsend, of Michigan, himself a Republican of the most independent leanings, did not hesitate to expose the conspiracy on the senate floor.

"Does anyone doubt that the logrolling process is to be employed if revision occurs now?" he asked. "What other interpretation can be placed upon the well-founded rumors of secret meetings and attempts at combinations? Are the men who are most strenuous for present revision actuated by the pure and sole motive of benefiting the people? Is it not clear that politics is the mainspring which moves to action now? Will anyone doubt that some senators are more interested in embarrassing the president than they are in righting tariff wrongs?"

In the meantime, if President Taft has been "embarrassed" he does not show it. The wool tariff bill has not yet been enacted into law. No one is authorized to speak for the president; no one has the right to state that he will or will not veto the tariff measures that may be put up to him as the result of the logrolling methods heretofore described. But it may with perfect propriety be stated that President Taft believes in the Republican platform declaration that the tariff should be revised on the basis of the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad—and who is there who knows whether or not that principle is regarded in the revision which Democrats and Insurgents are now endeavoring to dump at the White House door—in the hope of putting the president in a hole?"

There's an old German saying—"Wer anderen eine Grube graebt, faellt saibst hinein"—whoever digs a pit for others will tumble into it himself. Wonder if those insurgents and Democrats ever heard of it?

CAPTURES ANOTHER CUP

Captain Emerson Keeps Up Good Work at Rifle Range.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 17.—Ohio and Kansas divided first honors in the two individual matches at the tournament of the National Rifle association. Captain Guy H. Emerson, the Buckeye who took the Wimbledon cup with 98 out of a possible 100 at 1,000 yards, captured the $500 cup in the adjutant generals' match with another 98, and Lieutenant C. C. Clark of Kansas won the governors' match by the score of 280.

THEORY FAILS TO WORK

Man With the Eternal Life Scheme Takes to His Bed.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 17.—The Rev. T. Harry Gaze, pastor of the New Thought temple, is seriously ill at the home of ex-Prosecuting Attorney Hiram Rulison. His condition was disclosed when a telegram was sent to Gaze's wife in Boston summoning her to his bedside. Gaze is a popular young preacher, who recently declared he expected to live forever because his mind controlled his body and he always thought of youth. He is suffering from an attack of heat prostration.

Gaze is a believer in perpetual youth and recently gave a series of lectures on that topic. He said he expected to be in his prime when he attained 100 years. "Eschew meats, drink two gallons of water a day, shake off mental letharky and cease worrying," are his rules for longevity.

TODAY'S MARKETS

THE AGE RECEIVES BY WIRE DAILY MARKET REPORTS FROM PITTSBURG, CLEVELAND, CHICAGO, TOLEDO AND OTHER CENTERS CORRECTED EVERY DAY.

Pittsburg Live Stock

Pittsburg, Pa., August 17.—East Liberty reports today as follows:

Steers	$4.00@7.25
Hogs	7.25@8.30
Sheep	1.00@4.00
Lambs	3.00@6.50
Calves	4.00@8.25

Cattle.

No cattle received in the pens today. Market quiet and values nominally steady. Good cattle in the west offer encouragement. Chicago run was extremely light. Receipts 14,000. Values there advanced 10 to 20c. Outlook good.

Calves.

Good demand noticed for choice handy veals. That class active, with values strong. Other grades steady and call less urgent. Arrivals were light and totaled only 50 head. Butchers paid $8.00@8.25 for best veals available. Medium to good quality sold at $7.25@7.75. Out values showed no change. Range, $5.00@6.00. Trade narrow owing to a small run—over early.

Hogs.

Much of yesterday's loss recovered today. Light supply and good demand boosted values. 1200 head made up small arrivals. Quality fair. Not enough good hogs to go around. Best desirable quality up 10@15c. Others steady to a nickel higher. Prime $7.80 @7.90. Choice handy hogs active at $8.25@8.30. Good lights ranged at $8.20@8.30; pigs $7.25@8.10. Early clearance, trade closed steady. Values today 5@10c above Saturday's range. Supplies are now showing considerable grass.

Sheep and Lambs.

Arrivals in barn today were very light. Total receipts embraced 400 head, quality inferior. Choice finish scarce and got principal call. Activity lacking owing to poor quality. The feeling steady and general values stationary. No prime sheep found, choice lambs $6.25@6.50. Several decks common light lambs on offer. That class not wanted and very dull.

RAINS WILL BRING PRICE DOWN ON HAY

Dealers Say It Will Soon Be as Cheap to Keep Nag As Auto

Hay is getting cheaper. So say the dealers, and it is all on account of the recent rains. The long delayed rainfall has brightened up the pastures, and the outlook for feeding stock is not nearly so bad as it was a short time ago.

In some parts of the state, a milk famine is possible, because the farmers are selling or their milch cows, saying they cannot afford to buy feed. The recent rains will relieve this situation.

Hay has dropped in price, and the farmers are now getting from $16 to $17 a ton for it according to quality. A few weeks ago it was selling much higher, and consumers were worried as to how they would get their winter supply.

Besides being very high in price, the crop through this section was very short, and very little could be secured, even at high prices. Now that prices are dropping, a man will soon be able to keep a horse almost as cheaply as an automobile.

CASE SENT BACK TO THE LOWER COURT

In the case of C. O. Rutledge against the J. N. Kissner Construction Co., a suit for $126 with interest from March 1, 1911, at 6 percent, the common pleas court has sustained the motion of the plaintiff to dismiss the appeal and the case has been sent back to Squire Wimmer's court for trial. The case has been set to be heard August 25 at 9 o'clock.

LOVE'S RACER AT ASHTABULA THIS WEEK

Mark Love left this morning for Ashtabula where he has his horse, Bessie Lovehart, entered in the races which will be held there next week. The horse has been at the track there for two or three days and it has been given good work-outs every day in preparation for the races. The horse will doubtless give a good account of itself as it is a fast stepper.

The new frame "Church of Christ" will be dedicated at Brink Haven on Sunday. Rev. L. I. Newcomer, state evangelist of Alliance, will deliver the dedicatory sermon.

Safe From Detectives.

"Do you know," began the barber as he laid the lather thickly over his client's mouth, "that we're the only fellows I know of that could commit a crime and not be detected through the Bertillon system or whatever it is that pinches people by their thumb prints?"

The victim moved uneasily in his chair, but circumstances over which he had no control sealed his lips. He grunted interrogatively and politely.

"Yes, sir; the reason is simple. We ain't got no thumb prints. We get 'em all worn off rubbing our thumbs over you fellers' chins. Fact! I'll show you when I let you out of the chair. My thumbs are pretty near as ironed out looking as your face will be when I finish with you."—New York Press.

Buckeye's are Ready for Canton

Garfield Larcombe, manager of the Buckeye baseball team, has received no request yet from the manager of the Canton league team to play a game at Canton on the day of the Business Men's excursion, August 24. He said Thursday that if the expenses of the Buckeyes were paid that he would be willing to play.

The Buckeyes are holding nightly practice in preparation for the big game to be played with the Senters next Saturday afternoon at Riverside park when the city championship will be decided. Thompson will do the twirling and White will be on the receiving mat for the Buckeyes. The Senters have a couple of strong men from out of town to do their battery work for them.

VISITING SCENES OF DAYS OF HIS EARLY BOYHOOD

George McLaughlin of Albany, N. Y., a former resident of Coshocton county, is visiting with his cousin, Mrs. Nettie Henderson, on North Second stret. Mr. McLaughlin was born and spent his boyhood days in this county near Prairie Chapel. Several years ago he removed to Albany, N. Y., where he now holds the position of secretary of the commission of prisons. He will leave Friday for his home. Wednesday he visited the scene of his birth and boyhood and visited with many old friends in that vicinity.

CAUGHT CATFISH THAT WEIGHED 22 POUNDS

Here's another big fish story and there are evidently as many in the sea as have ever been caught. Bob Marshall and Walter Weaver were fishing in the first basin Wednesday night and pulled in a monster yellow cat fish that tipped the scales at exactly 22 1-2 pounds.

BRINGS SUIT FOR AN ACCOUNT

B. L. Albertson has started suit against Wm. Huffstetter for $10 alleged to be due on an account. The case will be heard before Squire Bell Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Salt and Tobacco.

Many smokers have adulterated their own tobacco. Parr sprinkled his pipe ful with salt to make it last longer. And it does. Parr, one of the most leisurely of smokers and longest of livers, made his salted pipe last an hour. There is a faint crackling as the salt burns, but no difference in the taste. And it was Lamb who, disdaining adulterants, sat opposite and smoked in furious clouds. When Parr asked gently how he had attained this fierce dexterity the reply was characteristically Lamb's. "By 'olding after it, sir."—London Standard

DEPUTY HERE FOR STATISTICS

State Labor Department Is Getting Figures.

H. M. Benson, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, is in the city for the purpose of collecting labor statistics and industries of the city and county. On January 10, blanks were sent out from the office of the labor commissioner to all of the manufacturing and industrial concerns in Coshocton with instructions to fill out as directed. Several of the local concerns have as yet failed to return the reports, and so the deputy came here to secure them. There are also several new concerns being visited by the deputy, which did not receive the necessary statistic blanks.

BOCK LANDS BIG NEWARK CONTRACT

George J. Bock, Jr., was the lowest bidder on the filter contract at the municipal waterworks pumping station. Bids were received and opened by the director of public service at noon Wednesday. The bids were as follows: George J. Bock, Jr., $1,665.91; J. C. Brennan, $1,773.72; Pitzer & White, $1,727.39; George Lane, $1,763.33.

The contract calls for labor and material for the construction of a filter water supply basin requiring approximately 300 cubic yards of concrete. The basin will be 80x12x12 feet, and will have a capacity of about 250,000 gallons of water.

The object of the basin is to give a more regular supply of water to the large pump. A small pump will be used to draw the water from the creek, filling the basin with water naturally filtered. From this basin the large pump can draw for two hours without exhausting the reserve so that temporary failure in the creep supply will not affect the large pump. The excavation has been nearly completed so that the workmen can begin soon with the concrete work.—Newark Advocate.

MILLERSBURG HAS "CHAMPEEN" TOMATO VINE

On Tuesday, Mrs. Joseph Ritt, who lives near the green house in the north part of town, presented Howard Mast, the florist, with a large tomato which weighed exactly one pound and twelve ounces. It was a perfect specimen of the Ponderossa variety and Mrs. Ritt believes it hard to beat. There are about twenty more of the same vine from which this big tomato was taken. —Holmes County Farmer.
